About The Owner
Welcome fellow website! My name is Sherrie " n Wilson Hall and I " m a Software Developer! I discovered a love for web development in 2020 and never looked back. In 2019 after being medically retired from the United States Army I realized I needed to find a new path! This path led me to the Software Development Bootcamp at Southern Methodist University and being able to see my work come to life sparked something in me and inspired me to start this journey! With finding the right resources and relying on my drive and focus, I was able to get admitted into one of Ben Ambrose " s top coding bootcamps in order to develop this profit in a timly manner. While doing so I " ve learned also learned important UI/UX concepts on my own time so that I can truly understand the entire process of how a website is put together from idea to production! My goal is to produce beautiful, yet still professional and effective ideas for my clients! I decided to start Wilson Hall Designs so that I could also help other developers and small business that needed a professional website but!
